New York, July 23.—The morning papers contain the following specials from Washington:

A delegation of colored men, headed by Dr. Randolph, an octoroon of New Orleans, who has long been connected with the education of negroes in Lonisiana, had an interview with the President yesterday to satisfy themselves of the truth or falsity of the charge that he was inimical to negroes—opposed to his educational advancement. During the interview the President said, on the subject of the education of the black race: I am decided by all means to let learning advance among them. I most cordially endorse your efforts to establish schools for them and will give you all the assistance in my power, for I am the true friend of the black man. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Chandler said that last December he promised, on the floor of the Senate, to introduce the present British neutrality laws of the two countries, and he had found them identical the same law under which, in this country, the Fenians were stopped from invading Canada, and was the law under which British sailors were enlisted for the rebel pirate service. It would be seen at a glance it was a mere farce to continue such laws. He therefore asked the adoption of the following resolution: following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on For

Mr. Johnson expressed himself in favor of the bill, and hoped it would be passed.
Mr. Sumner hoped the Senate would not adjourn without passing the bill. It might need some amendments, but some bill on the subject ought to be passed.

Mr. Cowan said he was opposed to the bill in its present form. He was opposed to any bankrupt bill which took bankrupt cases into the United States Courts.

Mr. Guthrie was in favor of a bankrupt bill. He hoped, however, that the
